

TRAPLINE AGREEMENT
FORT WAINWRIGHT TRAINING AREAS, ALASKA

Conditions

1. A US ARMY recreation access permit (RAP) is needed for all trapping activities on Fort Wainwright (FWA). Clearance to enter ranges must be obtained through use of the USARTRAK check in phone system 1-877-250-9781 or on-line at <http://usartrak.isportsman.net/>
2. Traplines will have a sign placed in plain view at the head and at any branches of the trapline. The sign will have the following information: Recreation Access Permit number, name of trapper, and a contact phone number.
3. Permission to enter any training area may be temporarily suspended during periods when military operations or training may preclude such entry or render entry hazardous. Trappers may be required to deactivate and pull traps for military exercises. When notified, traps must be removed within 5 days.
Military training takes precedent over all other activities.
6. I understand that hazards may exist in the trapping areas of FWA, and these hazards include (1) encountering live explosives, which if disturbed, tampered with, or removed, may result in serious injury or death. (2) Practice bombing does occur where practice ordinance will be dropped or fired from low flying aircraft, firing of gunnery, mortars, and artillery. I recognize the hazards described above and that other hazards do exist. When I enter on to the FWA, I am assuming all risks created hereby.
7. I agree to abide by and comply with all applicable Federal, State, and local military regulations governing trapping on the FWA. I also understand that I may obtain copies of military regulations governing trapping, access, off-limits areas etc. upon the FWA from the Natural Resources Office.
8. I fully understand and acknowledge that any misconduct or violation of this agreement on my part may result in the revocation of my trapping permit and that I may be barred from further entry upon the FWA by the Post Commander for any non-compliance misconduct. I further understand that in the event I am ordered to depart a particular area by proper authority that my noncompliance with such an order could subject me to prosecution under Title 18, United States Code (USC), 1382 Unlawful Entry.
